THAT'S THAT
MARCONI'S NEW BABY
GOVERNOR SMITH BUILDS
LOWEST WHEAT IN 16 YEARS

THE SENATE YESTERDAY afternoon, confirmed the naval treaty, neatly constructed by Britain and Japan, to limit the fighting power of our ships.

The chief and ablest officers in our navy wanted 8-inch guns, throwing 260-pound shells. We get, under and permission, of Japan and Britain, 6-inch guns, throwing 165-pound shells.

Senator McKellar, of Tennessee, says we shall "spend a billion and be weaker at sea than we are." Congratulations are in order, for Britain and Japan.

MARCONI, ITALIAN electrical genius, and his wife have a little girl, just born. The mother certainly is disappointed, the father probably. Mothers want boys to please fathers, fathers want boys to gratify their own vanity. Fortunately nature interferes.

ACCORDING to laws of heredity, daughters inherit and hand on to their children, the genius of their fathers.

A son inherits the father's genius rarely. You can count the really great sons of great fathers on the fingers of two hands. Marconi has three daughters, two by his first wife, no sons.

FORMER GOVERNOR ALFRED E. SMITH, erecting a building on Fifth avenue in New York where the Waldorf-Astoria hotel used to be, intends that it shall be a real building. It will have 102 stories, and rise 1,222 feet above Fifth avenue.

EVEN SO, former Governor Smith's structure of brick and steel will be small compared with the monument of votes that he piled up in the last campaign.

His vote was almost one hundred per cent greater than that ever cast for a Democratic presidential candidate.

RATHER sad and dull in Wall Street yesterday, not a good beginning for the brokers' week. Prices down, dismal "minus" signs were scattered all through the list.

Money went begging. You could borrow all you wanted at 2 per cent.

COTTON WAS VERY WEAK. And wheat, rocked in the protecting arms of Uncle Sam, was much feebler and unhealthier than in old days when rough "supply and demand" ruled it.

POLITICIANS BELIEVE that wheat will be the big factor in the western elections, with prices the lowest in 16 years.

The government was going to fix everything, through its farm board, and did invest millions, with painful results.

For a campaign song farmers might rewrite the sad old tune: "You Told Me I'd Be Happy, But No Happiness I See."

London Naval Treaty Ratified By Senate 58-9

ENGLAND; JAPAN STILL CONSIDER WARSHIP SLICE

Papers In Hoover Office Bring Reservation After Refusal

CRUISERS RESULT IN MUCH DEBATE

Senate Adjourns After Nineteen Months In Sessions

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 22.—The London Naval treaty today bore the approval of the senate and awaited ratification by Great Britain and Japan before becoming effective.

Meanwhile, the members of the senate, free after 9 months of almost continuous session, journeyed to their homes to seek rest and relaxation and prepare for the coming campaign.

The treaty was ratified, 58 to 9, late yesterday and adjournment sine die followed almost at once. The senate will reassemble in December for the regular "short session" ending March 4, 1931.

Before approving the treaty the legislators adopted the Norris reservation, setting forth the understanding of the senate that the pact is not modified in any way by secret documents or agreements extraneous to itself.

Hoover Withholds Papers
This reservation was introduced after President Hoover had withheld from the senate certain papers having to do with the negotiation of the pact.

Ratification was determinedly opposed by a small group of senators under the leadership of Johnson of California; Moses of New Hampshire, and Hale of Maine, all Republicans.

They disputed the claim of the administration that the pact provides for Anglo-American parity and will be the means of a saving to American taxpayers.

In particular, they objected to the cruiser clauses, asserting these involved a departure from the accepted policies of American naval construction.

Cruisers Are Discussed
They argued the pact placed an undesirable restriction on eight-inch gun cruisers the ranking officers of the navy here in disagreement. They expressed differing points of view in hearings before the foreign relations and naval committees.

The opponents of the treaty also roundly criticized the administration for twice declining to produce the confidential documents, after requests for them from the foreign relations committee and the senate as a whole.

ARREST COMES AFTER CRASH

Four Men Hurt, Four Cars Damaged In Accident On Highway

LISBON, July 22.—Four men were injured, four autos partially wrecked and one man jailed following a crash on the Liverpool-Youngstown road near Fairfield.

Kiser was cut on the back of the head, and over the right eye and back badly injured. Berg was also cut about the face and received internal injuries as did Moore. Adams was only slightly bruised in the crash.

CASUALTY LIST FOR HEAT WAVE SHOWS INCREASE

Eleven Deaths Reported In Ohio On Monday; Three Drown

RAINS RESULT IN MARKED RELIEF
Farmers Battle Fires In Many Places In State; Oil Tanks Burn

(By The Associated Press)
General Heat Wave made his last stand today in the parboiled east.

His doom before nightfall seemed imminent, for the weather man finally inserted a "positively" in front of his prediction of cooling showers, and skies were overcast in the regions where heat and humidity persisted.

The same story came to the Associated Press from New York, from Richmond, Va., Baltimore, Philadelphia and New Haven, Conn., the remaining sufferers from a blast of heat which has been focussing itself in a steadily narrowing circle on the east for the last four days.

CLEVELAND, O. July 22.—Occasional showers were to bring some relief to sun parched Ohio today but the temperature was expected to soar again Thursday and Friday. Eleven deaths directly and indirectly were due to the weather yesterday, numerous persons were overcome, water shortages were reported, farmers were kept busy fighting grass and brush fires, and unusual crowds swarmed to beaches.

Rainfall yesterday and last night brought some relief. The dead were: William Bucher, 16, Cleveland, drowned in Lake Erie, east of Painesville.

Drowns In Pond
Lafayette Towns, 29, Columbus, drowned in a pond there.

Jesse Hacker, 12, Zanesville, drowned in Jonathan creek a mile south of Zanesville.

George Dunham, Sandusky, heat prostration.

Mrs. May Oberg, 74, heat prostration at Akron.

Samuel Luckett, 47, Portsmouth, heart attack caused by heat.

Elbert E. Ertley, 3, Gallon, overcome by heat.

John Fletcher, 68, Zanesville, heat stroke.

Christopher Henderson, 51, West Lafayette, heat prostration.

Anthony Piazza, 59, killed at Avon when a tree under which he was sitting was struck by lightning.

Jacob Ridey, 70, Gallon, heat prostration.

Three Youngstown Sheet and Tube company workers were overcome as the mercury there reached 101, the high mark for three years.

The most serious water shortages were reported at Maple Heights, Mayfield Heights and Bedford, and other Cleveland suburbs. At Toledo, sprinkling lawns was prohibited.

Showers Aid Fighters
Showers last night aided farmers in fighting their brush and grass fires. Fires swept over several hundred acres northeast and southeast of Lima, destroying three oil storage tanks, trees, fences, pastures, crops and railroad ties. Work of 200 farmers, and Lima firemen to extinguish the flames was concluded by a fall of rain.

As the temperature soared to 108 at Fremont, the highest official for the state, woods and fields caught fire.

The mercury hit 107 at Newark, a record for all time. Unofficially the temperature at Willard went to 120 degrees, the highest in the memory of the oldest resident. Ten days ago light frost was reported there.

Other high Ohio temperatures were: London, 106, Sandusky 100, Tiffin 102, Conneaut 95, Springfield 104, Bucyrus 106 and Cleveland 94.

Former Salem Man In Research Work

UNCLE SAM STEPS IN

Uncle Sam's prohibition forces, busy as they are with prosecutions of Volstead act violators, appear to have taken "time out" for saving the lives and limbs of the nation's drinkers as well as their morals.

Since last April 26 indictments under the national prohibition act, charging a conspiracy to transport unlawfully a beverage called "fluid extract of ginger," have been returned by various federal grand juries throughout the northeastern states. These cases have been set for the October and November terms of court.

At numerous intervals throughout the prohibition regime cases of poisoning—sometimes fatal—and of blindness have reached the proportions of "almost epidemics" as a result of "green" or poison whisky. Federal, state or city officers of the law have stamped out the source of each "epidemic." The "ginger" cases are the most recent.

Several hundred persons in the eastern district of Kentucky and nearby territory were poisoned by this beverage. There were other cases scattered through the south. In a few instances death resulted and in a large number of cases paralysis of the legs or feet. It is pointed out by the United States department of justice that the beverage was not prepared in accordance with the formula prescribed by the United States pharmacopoeia. The so-called "fluid extract of ginger" was found to have contained 85 per cent alcohol in comparison with the one-half of 1 per cent permitted for beverages by law.

EGYPT FOLLOWS INDIA

Whether prompted by recent anti-British demonstrations in India or by the climax of a discontent that has been allowed to develop over a long period of years, observers of international affairs see in the recent riots in Alexandria and Cairo serious potentialities as far as England's control of that country is concerned.

Great Britain will not relinquish her control of Egypt without a bitter fight. Economic interests, which include the cotton trade, movement of raw materials down the valley of the Nile, the position of Cairo as a focal point in airways communications with the east, in addition to control of the Suez canal, are too important and powerful to be dropped without seeking other means of accomplishing the resumption of peaceful relations.

England's connection with Egypt covers a period of more than 50 years and the entire history of the relationship is fraught with quarrels and bickerings which often promised to develop into major problems, but which were always averted before a crisis was reached. Before the world war, Egypt was technically an autonomous dependency of Turkey. For practical purposes, however, the country had been under the control of Great Britain since 1875. In that year, the British sold the controlling shares in the Suez canal to the British government for $19,000,000. The British military occupation of Egypt came seven years later and has been continuous since that time.

Between 1882 and 1914 Egypt was one of the major pawns in the international chess board. France and Great Britain almost came to blows in 1898, when a British force under Kitchener, working south from Egypt to control the Sudan, met at Khartoum, a French force moving eastward from French possessions for the same purpose. Hostilities were averted and French and British spheres in Sudan were eliminated.

In 1904 London agreed to give Paris a free hand in Morocco in return for a free hand in Egypt. Great Britain thereupon supported France against Germany when the Kaiser laid claims to rights in Morocco in 1905 and 1911. In the 1911 crisis, Germany suffered a distinct diplomatic loss and it was this very factor that contributed to the outbreak of the world war three years later. When Turkey entered the war in 1914 Great Britain declared a protectorate over Egypt. It was ended in 1922 when London declared Egypt a sovereign state and abolished martial law, but reserved, at the same time, the right to safeguard British communications in Egypt, lives and property of foreigners and control of the Sudan. This was followed by a note from the British foreign office that any questioning of this decree would be regarded as an unfriendly act.

However, no agreement exists between the British government and the Egyptian Nationalists and it is this factor that is responsible for the present ugly trend of affairs in Egypt. In 1927, London drafted a treaty of mutual defense between Great Britain and Egypt, but the Egyptian Nationalists objected to the special privileges reserved for England in the pact and it was never ratified. British missions to Egypt have been boycotted much as the Simon commission to India was boycotted. Recent concessions proffered by the Labor government have been rejected as inadequate.

Just how England will treat the Egyptian situation remains to be seen. That it is ugly and dangerous cannot be denied.

What Others Say

HANS ANDERSEN

While his native city of Odense, Denmark, celebrates the 125th anniversary of the birth of Hans Christian Andersen this year with the dedication of a memorial hall, men and women everywhere may pause to consider, with relation to whatever they are trying to make of their own lives, the intentions and achievements of Andersen in the perspective of a century and a quarter.

Andersen, himself an ugly duckling, rose to fame and honor through the sheer insistence of the creative urge within him. The child of poor, shiftless, sickly parents, his father a shoemaker by trade, Hans Christian lived so completely in a world of the imagination that ordinary obstacles of poverty and unfortunateness could not swerve his amazing dreams. But the point for us to remember is that Andersen desired to shine as a dramatist, a singer, a dancer or a novelist, and not as the author of those wistful fairy tales which have made him immortal. Although he had enough business sense to give his public what it seemed to want, he scorned his "sleight of hand with fancy's golden apples" and turned eagerly from the successive volumes of fairy tales to the composition of novels. Yet it is safe to assume that for every score of readers familiar with the stories of the "Little Match Girl" or the "Stealthed Tin Soldier," there is not one to name any of Andersen's novels. His attitude had much in common with that of the late Conan Doyle, who resented his citizenship of Sherlock Holmes as the foundation for his literary fame.

So Andersen's career, and the steady posthumous popularity of his fairy tales, tinged as they are with the melancholy he must have known as a child, bid us reflect that fame is a whimsical jade. Whatever may be our personal ambitions, we have no way of knowing what may cause our memory to be acclaimed, in greater or less degree, as our talents have been great or small.—Detroit Free Press.

Colic Common In Summer

A smiling, happy, well baby is a joy to see. It wrings the heart to see a sick, helpless little baby.

It is in the summertime that little babies suffer most from colic. That is because hot weather is favorable for the growth of germs, and so the baby's milk must be closely watched.

Those minute plants, called germs or bacteria, are like all other plants, they thrive on warmth and moisture. Germs grow and multiply in enormous numbers in a bottle of milk unless the milk is clean and is kept in a cool place. You cannot be sure that bottled milk is safe unless it remains in a temperature below 50 degrees F., which is the usual temperature of a good refrigerator.

The breast fed baby is a lucky baby, especially in the summertime. A mother's milk is pure milk, and it also has peculiar properties most advantageous to her child, more so than any cow's milk could possibly have.

Cow's milk, no matter how carefully it is handled and distributed, is sure to contain some of the souring germs, even though it is free from the more dangerous germs. If kept in a warm place, it takes only a few hours before the milk is teeming with bacteria capable of producing great discomfort, if not actual illness.

When contaminated milk is fed to a baby, colic is near at hand. Gas forms in the intestines and violent, twisting pains are sure to follow.

The first thing to do in an attack is to stop the baby's milk feedings. Give nothing but cooled, boiled water in frequent small doses. Warm water alone may quiet the symptoms, but if it does not, give a small dose of milk of magnesia, or a little bit of bicarbonate of soda in warm water in order to neutralize the acidity and stop the pain. Every mother should know how to give an enema. It requires some skill and knowledge. Giving an enema will shorten the baby's illness.

In a severe attack it is wise not to return to the milk feedings for a day or two. Barley water may be given instead.

Barley water is made by adding a cupful of barley, purchased at the grocery, to a quart of water. Cook this in a double boiler for three hours, then strain through a sieve and then with the water. It should be prepared exactly as the formula for a bottle feeding of milk is prepared. Give it to the baby at the same times as you would the regular feedings of milk.

The Stars Say—

For Wednesday, July 23

The lunar transit for this day hold augury of interesting and probably gratifying conditions for those in employment, who may be assured of favors, recognition or some measure of advancement from employers or those in authority. New projects are also under a favorable rule for successful launching, but a mildly adverse position of Mercury urges the need of discretion in writings and contracts. Be careful in letter writing and in speech.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of recognition and advancement if in the employment of others. There is prospect of small favors or preferment from those in authority. New undertakings are also under a fortunate rulership for successful launching but sign all papers and letters with precaution. A child born on this day may be shrewd, capable and ambitious and should reach a fairly successful status in life through favors or recognition from those in positions of authority and might be wise to inculcate high principles of honor and veracity in early years.

This gas burner makes your coal furnace an automatic heating plant... at a very low cost

YOUR heating labors and worries are over... the drudgery, dirt and annoyances of hand fired methods are shadows of the past when your coal furnace is converted into an automatic gas heating plant by the Surface Combustion Gas Burner.

The change can be made in a few hours' time without any bother or inconvenience to you and without changing your present heating system. And the job is guaranteed to operate to your complete satisfaction.

Save 10% Now

SO LOW is the cost of equipment and so liberal is the two-year payment plan that any family who can afford a good washing machine or a first class radio can enjoy the comfort and convenience of automatic gas heat and never miss the small payments!

You can save 10% on the completely installed job by ordering the burner in now. See details and payment plan below.

Estimate Free

IF YOU are at all interested in automatic heating, if you would like to free the family of the nuisance and hardship of old fashioned methods, if Winter time health protection means anything to you, we suggest you send for one of our heating men to explain the costs and benefits of gas heat.

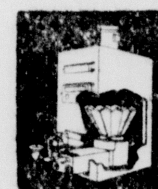

Please do not feel obligated—our Heating Man's mission is to be of service in acquainting you with just how automatic gas heat will work out in your home. He will examine your present heating system, compute its efficiency, measure up the heat requirements

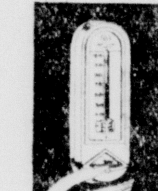

Summer Heat all Winter

Fits any coal furnace

... and any coal boiler

Finger tip control

for the type of your house construction, and then supply you with a reliable estimate of your season's fuel bill.

His estimate will not be a guess, but a reasonably accurate forecast of your complete heating costs arrived at by engineering methods and the records of the United States Weather Bureau covering normal weather conditions. Experience of most users is that their gas bills are less than the estimate.

No Hidden Costs

YOU probably will be agreeably surprised at the relatively low cost of this ideal form of automatic heating. In many instances you will find the fuel cost of gas less than the cost of other fuels. And where the estimate on gas may be a little more, remember that there are no hidden costs to gas heat.

With gas you pay nothing for delivery, nothing for putting the fuel in the cellar, nothing for ash removal, nothing for furnace cleaning, far less for housecleaning, drapery, carpet and furniture renovating. Wall paper and decoration expense is much lower with gas and you do not have to pay for the gas until after you have used it.

And still you can enjoy all these savings of gas heat, and at the same time be free of all heating bother, furnace coddling and grimy stoking. Gas heat is completely automatic.

If your freedom is worth anything to you at all, we feel you won't go through another winter of annoyance and downright slavery when you learn how little gas heat costs. Why NOT telephone the Gas Office now?

DETROIT VOTES ON STATUS OF MAYOR BOWLES

Charges Are Hurlled In Hot Battle To Oust City Executive

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, July 22.—Mayor Charles Bowles, elected last fall, on a reform platform is before the voters today with an accusation that he "tolerated lawlessness" as one of the charges.

While Mayor Bowles was in Louisville last May 17, attending the Kentucky derby, his police commissioner, Harold H. Emmons, ordered raids on race betting establishments in which nearly 300 arrests were made. The mayor returned to Detroit and fired Emmons, thereby precipitating the recall move which culminated today in a special election to decide whether Mayor Bowles shall continue office.

Friends of the Mayor have declared that Commissioner Emmons "double crossed" his chief in ordering the raids while the mayor was attending a horse race, and Mayor Bowles stated that he had intended to discharge Emmons for failure to enforce gambling laws and "fired him in spite of rather than because of" the raids on derby day.

But the discharge of Emmons was made the central argument for recall of Mayor Bowles. Within a few days recall petitions were placed in circulation. They contained charges that the mayor "discharged Police Commissioner Emmons for enforcing gambling laws while Bowles was out of the city," "tolerated violation of laws by law enforcing agencies and eight other charges."

More than 110,000 signatures were obtained for the recall petition, and more than the necessary 90,000 were declared valid by the election commission. The Michigan supreme court ruled that the election must be held. The election campaign began two weeks ago after the mayor's supporters had exhausted all means of preventing the vote.

AUDIT BASIS OF MERGER ACTION

Opponents To Joining Of Youngstown Firms To Call Witness

YOUNGSTOWN, July 22.—Forces seeking to enjoin the merger of the Bethlehem Steel corporation with the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company endeavored to marshal out an array of figures at the injunction trial today in order to determine how the basis for the merger agreement was reached.

They prepared to call George May, an officer in Price-Waterhouse & Co., of New York, to the stand for details of the audit of the two concerns which his company made.

Foes of the merger had accused Price-Waterhouse, of making serious errors in the audit, favorable to Bethlehem, but proponents of the merger maintain that the audit had been carefully checked by other accounting firms.

Attorneys for the merger foes were victorious yesterday at the conclusion of a three-day battle to determine the bonus paid Eugene G. Grace, president of Bethlehem. Grace testified that during the five and one half years from Jan. 1, 1929 to June 30, 1930 he had received $5,431,684.

INVESTIGATORS VISIT SOVIETS

Boos, Jeers Greet Congressmen At Camps Of Reds In East; Hold Mass Meeting

NEW YORK, July 22.—The congressional committee investigating Communist activities was back in New York city today after a visit to Red camps where the members heard themselves called a "Fascist fishing expedition."

The committee, which is headed by Rep. Hamilton Fish, Jr., yesterday visited camp Nitgedaiget, which means "don't worry," about three miles south of Newburgh and Camp Unity near Beacon, N. Y.

A witness had described the camps as places where children of the Gastonia, N. C., textile strikers were being taught to salute the Red flag.

Boos, jeers and catcalls greeted the congressmen and their escort of state police and detectives at both camps.

At Camp Nitgedaiget the visit was made the subject of an impromptu mass meeting of about 500 radical campers attired in bathing suits, who were waiting for dinner.

OHIO CAR KILLS KENTUCKY MAN

Akron Man To Tell Authorities Of Manner In Which Death Came On Highway

GEORGETOWN, KY., July 22.—Eugene Childers of Akron was in Georgetown today to appear at an inquest into the death of James L. Hedger, 50, farmer, struck and killed here last night by Childers. Childers was charged with driving the car which immediately reported the accident to police.

Hedger was sitting in the road near his farm, watching Arthur Rice change a tire. Childers, accompanied by his family, was blinded by lights of an approaching machine, he said.

Wrecked Store Front

LEETONIA, July 22.—After an unknown motorist crashed into the store front of the general store of the J. C. Hephner Co., he drove away with a screen door hanging on the machine, the door being found four blocks away on the Leetonia-Columbiana road.

The car struck the plate glass front with such force that the entire front of the store was demolished. The automobile when inside the store spread the counters apart. The driver of the machine then backed his car out of the store and drove away.

POLICE QUESTION MAN IN MURDER

Virginian Held In Death Of Mary Baker; Alibi Reported Breaking

WASHINGTON, July 22.—A warrant charging him with the murder of Mary Baker was issued early today against Herbert M. Campbell, Virginia real estate man, owner of gun with which police believe girl was killed.

Miss Baker's body was found stuffed into a culvert near Arlington National cemetery on April 12.

Campbell was subjected to an extended questioning last night which continued well into the morning hours. He stoutly maintained he did not kill the young government clerk, but police said he told them the gun in question had never left his possession.

William C. Glott, commonwealth's attorney for Arlington county, Virginia, who swore out the warrant, said part of Campbell's alibi had been broken down. The authorities also said the alibi of Herman H. Barriere, who was arrested in Montreal last week in connection with the Baker case, had been borne out in almost every respect. He will be held, however, for further questioning as to what he knows of Campbell's activities.

HI-JACKERS GET SUPPLY OF RUM

Mince Pie May Be Bit Weak As Supply Was Intended For That Purpose

CHICAGO, July 22.—The mince meat may seem a little weak next winter. Hijackers made away with the rum last night, and the warehouse of Libby, McNeill and Libby in the Union stockyards. The bootleg value of the stolen rum was placed at $80,000.

Seven robbers, wearing overalls, held 14 employees at bay, spent an hour in rolling the barrelled rum to a truck and escaped after exchanging shots with a special policeman. The robbers apparently had entered the warehouse in midafternoon and mingled with the workers until quitting time. They produced pistols, herded the employees into an office and then detailed one of their number to accompany the watchman on his rounds, to make certain that he rang his boxes regularly.

Police described it as the boldest hijacking raid ever conducted here against legitimate industry.

Charity Pies Poison 12 Canton Residents

CANTON, July 22.—Twelve members of three families were recovering today from ptomaine poisoning said to have been caused by eating tainted custard pies handed out to them by charity workers.

Among those stricken were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dexter and three children; Mr. and Mrs. Earl McFarland and one child; Merrill Rohn, 18; Arthur McAbie, 43; Mrs. Elizabeth Fitzgerald, 44; and Aleen Crowe. The families, police said, depended upon charity for food.

Train Hits Station

BLUFFTON, O., July 22.—C. F. Buckland, Akron, Canton and Youngstown railroad station agent here, was nursing injuries received yesterday when a train of 17 freight cars smashed through a bumper on a siding and tore into the station, demolishing it. Buckland suffered four broken ribs.

Killed In Crash

COLUMBUS, July 22.—Bernard Bracken, 30, of Columbus, is in a critical condition, the result of an automobile accident last night in which his woman companion, believed to be Miss Myrtle Kelly, a cook at Grant hospital, was killed.

The worst has come when a decent man can't get shot without being suspected of traffic with crooks.

CRASH FATAL TO AIR MAIL FLIER

Plane Falls In Field On Farm Near Huron, O., Early Today

HURON, O., July 22.—William Frederick Martin, 26, of Bay City, Mich., flying the air mail from east to west for the Thompson aeronautical corporation was killed early today when his plane crashed 2 miles west of here.

The crash is believed to have occurred about 4:30 a. m. The plane fell on the farm of George Beatty, who said he heard a crash at that hour but disregarded it. An hour later when he went into the field he discovered the plane.

It was crumpled as if it had been squeezed between two huge hands. There was no blaze and no odor of gasoline. The pilot's parachute was in its pack. The body was crushed in the cockpit.

Beatty notified an undertaking establishment which brought the body into Huron.

Jack Parker, manager of the Parker air field at Sandusky who accompanied Coroner A. Grierson, said he believed Martin had dumped his gasoline as he fell, to prevent the mail from burning.

The fog and rain is believed to have caused the accident.

JUDGE MAY FACE LIQUOR CHARGES

Youngstown Official In Ring Which Pilfered Liquors, Claim

YOUNGSTOWN, July 22.—Mayor Joseph L. Heffernan today was considering pushing the prosecution of a municipal judge high in political circles here as a recipient of large quantities of liquor stolen from the police station here a year ago.

In messages from Washington James M. Doran, former prohibition commissioner who investigated the case indicated the government would take action against the judge upon Heffernan's request. The evidence, Doran said, is enough for indictment.

Two police officers caught in the act of stealing some of the liquor were suspended but later reinstated. The recipient of the stolen liquor was kept secret.

INDIAN WOMEN TAKING ACTION

Prevent Sale Of Liquor Licenses By Bombay Lower Revenue

BOMBAY, July 22.—Mahatma Gandhi's civil resistance movement, which began with salt raids and followed with boycotting of British goods, now is renewing activity against native liquor.

Women disciples of Gandhi have done some picketing of liquor and foreign cloth shops since the movement opened March 12, but yesterday they showed their force at an auction here for the sale of saloon licenses.

The sale had been well advertised and was held at the town hall, yet so successful was the women's campaign that no bids were offered for the 30 licenses.

Long before time for the auctioneer to call for bids, women headed by Mrs. Hansa Mehta, president of the Bombay provincial congress committee, assembled before the entrance of the hall.

The police loaded them into patrol wagons and took them to the station. Another group stepped up and as speedily carted away. Just as the auction closed others appeared for duty.

Forty-six were arrested. All were released after the sale closed.

Official action in the liquor question was taken by the Bombay municipal corporation. The favorite native drink is toddy, derived from the sap of the toddy palm, and it is against this beverage that the Nationalists have campaigned most strongly. The corporation decided yesterday by a vote of 33 to 28 that the municipal palms henceforth should not be leased for production of the drink.

This will mean an annual loss of some $19,000 in gold for the city revenues, as about 40,000 toddy palms in the corporation limits heretofore have been leased.

Chicago Character Dies From Wounds

CHICAGO, July 22.—Peter (Ash Can Pete) Insorio, whose North Elizabeth street saloon used to be called the "Ash Can Club," was shot to death last night.

Six bullets entered his body, but Insorio, 40 years old, lived long enough to be taken to a hospital.

Police believed "Ash Can Pete" may have been slain by enemies of the Moran-Aiello gang with whom, officers said, Insorio had recently formed a connection.

The chief difficulty in establishing parity is the fact that a fleet is no stronger than the man in charge of it.

FAMILY BATTLE BRINGS CHARGES

Accusations Made After Fight At Swimming Hole In County

LISBON, July 22.—A battle at Franklin Square, has reached courts at Lisbon and eventually the next grand jury.

Trouble arose when John Bryarly and Frank Greenwall, residing next door to each other at Franklin Square went in bathing in the old swimming hole on the Salem-Franklin Square road. The men fought under the water and out of it.

Mrs. Ethel Bryarly went to the rescue of her husband and is said to have struck Greenwall on the head with a rock.

A charge of assault and battery was preferred against Greenwall before Justice of the Peace Claude Albright at Lisbon, who held Greenwall for the next grand jury under $1,500 bond. He was committed to the county jail in default.

Goes Before Justice
Mrs. Greenwall then went before Justice of the Peace M. K. Zimmerman at Lisbon and filed a charge of assault and battery against Mrs. Bryarly and a charge of assault with intent to kill against Bryarly.

George Fox who said he took the role of peacemaker, was struck in the face by Mrs. Bryarly when he started to interfere, and he filed a charge of assault and battery against Mrs. Bryarly. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bryarly waived a hearing and were bound over to the grand jury, giving $250 bond each.

Bryarly then stepped into the scene and had a peace warrant issued against Greenwall. The latter action has not been disposed of.

MOVIES

"ON THE LEVEL"

Victor McLaglen entertains a determined desire to reform, but sees no immediate chance to do so. After chasing so many women through "What Price Glory," "The Cock Eyed World" and "Hot For Paris," he has reached the stage where he would like to actually marry the soft smiling girl in a picture.

In "On the Level" he flirts outrageously with a beautiful racketeer miss who lures him into a real estate deal that turns out to be anything but pleasant.

McLaglen portrays the part of an iron worker on a skyscraper in the picture and William Harrigan, who recently scored in "Nix On Dames," is his "buddy," and incidentally his fourth pal in as many productions. McLaglen induces his fellow workers to invest in the real estate scheme, promoted by the adventuress and her male companions in the fraudulent deal and before the financial skein is untangled, McLaglen passes through many experiences which prove that he is still a "fall guy" when women are concerned.

A delightful romance threads its way through the plot in which his "buddy" wins the love of a still more important girl. Lilyan Tashman portrays the role of the woman who intrigues McLaglen, Mary McAlister enacts the role of the girl who is won by Harrigan. Others in the cast are Arthur Stone, Leila McIntyre, Ben Hewlett, R. O. Pennell and Harry Tenbrook. The picture was directed by Irving Cummings.

Profit by experiences like that of Mr. Joseph Gent, 1645 Oak street, Youngstown, Ohio, who says: "Two dollars worth of Konjola ended two years of misery with stomach trouble. This may be hard to believe but it is true. Pains after meals were often so severe that I was doubled up in agony. I lost much time from work and my rest was badly broken at night. Severe pains over the kidneys added to my misery. In a little over two weeks of Konjola treatment all my health problems were solved. Gladly I endorse this splendid medicine."

Though Konjola does go swiftly to work, it is recommended that, for best results, a complete treatment of from six to eight bottles be used. Konjola is sold in Salem, Ohio at J. H. Lease Drug Co. 2 stores and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section—Adv.

Chicago Cubs Blank Giants 6-0 To Advance Into First Place

Brooklyn Breaks Even With Cards; New York Defeats Indians, 7-3

Manager Joe McCarthy, the minor league manager who made good in the "big time" without previous major league experience, today had the Chicago Cubs again out in front, setting the pace in the hectic National league pennant scramble.

The Cubs moved into the ruling seat yesterday by blanking the Giants 6 to 0 while the Robins were breaking even with the St. Louis Cardinals, Brooklyn taking the first encounter 9 to 8 and the Cards the closing count 17 to 10.

Cubs Half Game Ahead

The Cubs' victory and the Robins' even break sent the champions to the front by one-half game.

Here is how the standing looks today: Chicago won 52, lost 37 for 584; Brooklyn won 50, lost 36 for 581.

Hack Wilson, the National league's home run king, played an important role in the Cubs' victory. He pounded out his twenty-eighth and twenty-ninth homers, which, coupled with Eddie Farrell's hit of the same nature accounted for five runs. The other was a gift from Roy Parmelee, who relieved Tiny Chaplin in the seventh.

Punch home runs were almost as common as base hits in the Robins' Cardinals fracas. Bottomley and Puccinelli were called in from the Cardinals dugout in the first game and they made good with home runs, which coupled with homers by Frisch and Mancuso totaled St. Louis eight runs in the opener.

Hendrick Comes Through

They all went for naught, however, when Manager Robinson sent Harvey Hendrick in to bat for Finn in the ninth with two men on base, two out and the Robins trailing by two runs. Harvey sent the ball sailing in over the fence, three runs crossed the plate and the game was over.

The second contest was all Cardinals, however, as they pounded old Adolfo Luque from the mound and then fell on Elliott, Dudley and Clark just as ferociously. Frisch connected with his second home run of the day and Leet hit one for Brooklyn as a pinch hitter in the first inning.

Lester Sweetland had one of his good days as the Phillies trimmed the Pirates 7 to 2. Home runs by Southern and Whitney featured the attack that centered in the first and fifth rounds.

Tigers Trim Mackmen

The leaders in the American league found the going tough, the Athletics losing to the Tigers 7 to 6 and the Senators dropping their second successive game to the Browns, 6 to 4.

George Earnshaw was the victim of the Tigers' eleven hit attack, which included seven extra base hits. The champions managed to stay in running until the ninth, when Charlie Gehring, who had tripped and stole home in the fifth, led off a rally with a double.

Although held to five hits by Handley Brown and Liska, the Browns took advantage of nine bases on balls to defeat the Senators, Stewart, who went the route for the winners, scattered Washington's ten hits.

Babe Ruth poked out his thirty-fifth home run and Lou Gehrig his twenty-eighth as Ed Wells won his eighth game when the Yankees defeated the Indians 7 to 3. Harry Rice also hit the ball over the fence for the Yankees.

Boston broke up the White Sox three-game winning streak by taking the final of the series 3 to 1 behind Horace Lisenbee's fine pitching. The Sox total hits numbered five, three of which were made by Carl Reynolds. The game was the fastest of the season at Comiskey park, being played in one hour, 24 minutes.

Woods and Waters

Attorney General Gilbert B. Wetmore has ruled that if we should use a minnow trap or a dip net in getting bait to go fishing, we are breaking the law. That is some of the best news for Ohio sportsmen in weeks.

There is a lot of credit due Bettman, as he takes time to render opinions on fish and game laws as well as on problems which appear, to some, as more weighty.

These opinions of the attorney general are doing sportsmen a lot of good as they are showing us just what our laws really mean, instead of permitting them to be decided upon by whims of the peace or others upon whom they are forced from time to time.

Fishermen who go after minnows know that the dip net, that little one that is so common in the hands of the state is really not half so dangerous in the hands of an unscrupulous person as is the conventional 4x8 foot minnow seine.

Most of us have both and each has a peculiar adaptability to the waters in which they are used. As far as the minnow trap is concerned, limitations are placed on them so that they can take nothing but small minnows. They are very much in the minority, however.

When seining for minnows in the past, I have taken many mature fish in a 4x8 sein. This includes bluegill, catfish and many others as well as small muskellunge. This usually occurred while seining the ripples of a river at night. It is an easy matter to sort these out and toss them back into freedom with a wet hand without doing them damage.

I have also used a dip net on many occasions and have yet to take a single mature fish, or any that would be illegal to use as bait, save an occasional tiny rock bass.

Personally, I see far less danger in the dip net than in the legal minnow seine. This is not merely a personal opinion, but is known by sportsmen all over the state.

The result is that with these rulings, Ohio sportsmen are going to see the laws in their true light and at the next session of the legislature there will be such a hue and cry that these laws are going to be placed on a sound, logical basis.

Ohio fish and game laws are far from being all wrong. They were formed by men who had the interests of conservation at heart and were copied many years ago from laws of another state. They have done wonderful service in the past and will continue to do so until they are rendered more effective.

One law permits a trot line to be legal under certain conditions, but still a fisherman may not hang a trot line into a stream from an overhanging branch. Why not?

Another law allows a rabbit hunter to have only five rabbits in possession while afield hunting, but a butcher may have as many Ohio killed rabbits in his market as he desires. Why?

A fisherman may use a cane pole without a license, but if he has guides and a reel on the same pole and was using it under exactly the same conditions, same bait, same number of hooks and so on, he

MANDELL OFFERS ADVICE
CARNERA GETTING RICH

SAMMY MANDELL, defeated decisively by Al Singer, offered no post mortem alibi except that of being weakened by attempts to stay within his class, the title of which he has been defending successfully when the opposition was sufficiently weak to warrant the venture. Facing Singer, he also faced oblivion, and the fight racket will probably see no more of each other except when Sammy appears in capacity of spectator or any other role except that of a pugilist.

Sammy, once known as the Rockville flash and the youngster who possessed science and skill almost equal to that of Benny Leonard, was a flash no longer as he failed to survive for a round against Singer. His alibi of being weakened in his weight-reducing attempts is logical but Mandell brought it on himself by failing to fight more often. He gained weight through inactivity, then was penalized by being forced to work over-time trying to rid himself of this surplus.

He voiced the fact that "if I ever had to do it over again I would be a fighting champ" and advised Singer to profit from his own failing. And it is entirely likely that Singer will do so.

PRIMO CARNERA is getting rich and doing so without indulging in a real bout. The American public, glad to pay out $2 to watch the freak in action when it refuses to support a good battle of real pugilists, is putting the Italian man-mountain on "easy street."

Any giant of Carnera's prodigious size could commercialize in his gigantic build in the same manner if he had pugilistic ability. Big fellows aren't so numerous that the public will tire of them immediately and when Carnera gets away with what he has anybody can duplicate his "get-rich quick" activities.

Carnera disappointed all but his own countrymen in his appearance in Youngstown last week. He opposed members of his own team and they were introduced and announced at 20 to 35 pounds more than they actually weighed. The giant looked good but so did George Godfrey against Simms in Cleveland last week. The worst of battles can perform well if he knows there is no danger of getting hit and with a little practice can make himself look like a champion by working out with has-beens that never were.

Senators Win 6th Straight Contest

COLUMBUS, O., July 22.—The Columbus Senators doubly covered themselves with momentary glory yesterday. No only did they trim the league leading Louisville Colonels 10 to 8 but the Bucks also played upon Ben Tincup his first defeat of the season after he had chalked up 11 victories in relief roles.

The win was the sixth straight for the Senators.

Meanwhile, Toledo moved up a notch nearer St. Paul in the race for second place, licking Indianapolis 11 to 7, while the Apostles were dropping a 12-inning battle to Kansas City, 4 to 3. Minneapolis defeated Milwaukee 7 to 5.

The department's statement goes on to add that a shortage of minnows means scarcity of food and lean and half-starved bass.

This part of it I can not take seriously, as to the best of my knowledge there are still clouds of "river shiners" in the streams where bass exist and then, too, the bass and other game fish are not choicy and will eat small bass, catfish and other food fishes. Seining in these rivers for bait is more or less limited.

The killbuck still abounds in the streams, as does the Walbrooding and other larger streams. Then, too, there are suckers in plenty and the game fish like them.

A dip net in the large streams of the northern watershed yields minnows in vast numbers any morning and the shiners are plenty on other river ripples at night.

It does not seem logical that there is a food shortage in streams that are fit habitat for game fish, but in smaller streams there is little doubt that minnows are getting fewer and that something more effective than recent legislation should be done.

Army Life Threatens To End Ring Career Of Primo Carnera

(By The Associated Press)
OMAHA, NEB., July 22.—An Italian army uniform and oblivion—that is the future for Primo Carnera, giant Venetian heavyweight, according to Frank Paccassi, business manager of the Carnera troupe.

Paccassi gave expression to his views last night after reading a telegram from Byron H. Till, assistant commissioner of immigration stating that an extension of the stay in the United States had been denied the big boy and Leon See, his French manager.

"Primo has a year of service in Italy," Paccassi related. "That will spell finish to his career. When he leaves the army he won't be worth a darn."

Paccassi disclosed that Carnera's managers had obtained from Premier Mussolini, himself, an extension by which the they weighed in at 2 p. m. yesterday before the state athletic commission. Bass weighed 125½, while Canzoneri scaled only 129½, a quarter of a pound below the junior lightweight limit.

Due to the wording of the contract, which stipulate that the New Yorker must weigh more than 130, Frank Wiener, chairman of the commission, ordered Tony to go out and eat. When he returned, he weighed 131½. The reports said that Canzoneri would claim the title because he was under the junior lightweight limit at the official weighing-in time.

Bass Outclassed

Bass won only three rounds, and these by narrow margins. Canzoneri took five and two were even. Benny encountered an aggressive formman who flailed him at every turn. Early in the bout Tony opened a cut over Bass' right eye and he made this a target for his left thereafter.

Bass' timing and judgment of distance were poor and about the only thing he showed as a sturdy constitution that withstood some severe hammering at close quarters.

Although the match had been arranged as a non-title bout, it was reported that Canzoneri would claim the championship. When

(By The Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, July 22.—Tony Canzoneri, rugged New Yorker, finds Benny Bass as easy to conquer as a junior lightweight as he did as a featherweight.

Three year ago Canzoneri won the featherweight crown from Bass, and last night he gave the Philadelphia, who is recognized in many states as junior lightweight champion, one of the worst beatings of his career in a 10-round bout at the Phillies ball park.

Knockout Brings Him Lightweight Crown

An excellent smiling head of Al Singer, the Bronx youth, who attained championship heights by virtue of his one-round knockout victory over the former lightweight titleholder, Sammy Mandell, Singer dropped Mandell to the canvas three times before he knocked him out.

He did rock Canzoneri once with a terrific right, but the New Yorker came back strong.

The bout was marked by frequent clinching and the crowd yelled a number of times for more action.

Attorney General Gilbert B. Wetmore has ruled that if we should use a minnow trap or a dip net in getting bait to go fishing, we are breaking the law. That is some of the best news for Ohio sportsmen in weeks.

There is a lot of credit due Bettman, as he takes time to render opinions on fish and game laws as well as on problems which appear, to some, as more weighty.

These opinions of the attorney general are doing sportsmen a lot of good as they are showing us just what our laws really mean, instead of permitting them to be decided upon by whims of the peace or others upon whom they are forced from time to time.

Fishermen who go after minnows know that the dip net, that little one that is so common in the hands of the state is really not half so dangerous in the hands of an unscrupulous person as is the conventional 4x8 foot minnow seine.

Most of us have both and each has a peculiar adaptability to the waters in which they are used. As far as the minnow trap is concerned, limitations are placed on them so that they can take nothing but small minnows. They are very much in the minority, however.

When seining for minnows in the past, I have taken many mature fish in a 4x8 sein. This includes bluegill, catfish and many others as well as small muskellunge. This usually occurred while seining the ripples of a river at night. It is an easy matter to sort these out and toss them back into freedom with a wet hand without doing them damage.

I have also used a dip net on many occasions and have yet to take a single mature fish, or any that would be illegal to use as bait, save an occasional tiny rock bass.

Personally, I see far less danger in the dip net than in the legal minnow seine. This is not merely a personal opinion, but is known by sportsmen all over the state.

The result is that with these rulings, Ohio sportsmen are going to see the laws in their true light and at the next session of the legislature there will be such a hue and cry that these laws are going to be placed on a sound, logical basis.

Ohio fish and game laws are far from being all wrong. They were formed by men who had the interests of conservation at heart and were copied many years ago from laws of another state. They have done wonderful service in the past and will continue to do so until they are rendered more effective.

One law permits a trot line to be legal under certain conditions, but still a fisherman may not hang a trot line into a stream from an overhanging branch. Why not?

Another law allows a rabbit hunter to have only five rabbits in possession while afield hunting, but a butcher may have as many Ohio killed rabbits in his market as he desires. Why?

A fisherman may use a cane pole without a license, but if he has guides and a reel on the same pole and was using it under exactly the same conditions, same bait, same number of hooks and so on, he
